

Servant Leadership During

Adversity

Southwest Airlines sets the standard for a servant leadership culture with 55,671 Employees. We will learn how they responded to Hurricane Harvey, cared for Employees, and the many other unheralded events of servant leadership they do each day. In addition, for those who haven't been to Southwest Airlines previously, they will offer a brief tour at 11:30, but you must RVSP to Carol specifically for the tour. If you want to have the "total SWA experience", you are invited to stay and have an informal lunch in "The Landing" (at your own expense). They have many different lunch choices available. Because of their unique, world-renowned culture, SWA receives requests from all over the world to visit, and they must limit their invitations. You will want to choose your delegates carefully, and NOT miss this opportunity to see inside the magic of Southwest Airlines SPIRIT in action. Attendance will be limited to our member organizations.
